We want to buy one thousand Trade
Dollars at their market value in this city.
Persons having any they wish to dispose of would confer a favor by dropping us a note or leaving word at this office.

The excursion train to Louisville Wednesday morning was almost empty in consequence of the extremely inclement weather.
The Blackburn Guards, of Midway, and the McCreary Guards, of this city, went down on the special.

Read Griffin Bros.' advertisement, and then go with a rush and purchase Christmas tricks enough to make the little folks happy. Old Santa Claus has fairly outdone himself this year, and Griffin Bros. are his special agents for Frankfort.

Several of our Frankfort ladies attended a sociable at the residence of Judge W. L.
Pence, in Belle Point, Thursday night, and had such an enjoyable time as only the Judge knows how to afford. An elegant supper was among the good things of the evening.

There is a project on foot to have another church built in this city, on the South Side, of the Presbyterian denomination. Money to the amount of about one thousand dollars has been subscribed, the lot selected, terms for the purchase of the lot agreed on,
and there is every prospect that the church will be built at an early day.

You need never be bothered with smoke in your house again. Capt. E. H. Taylor has the boss chimney cap, and when it is placed on the top of your chimney, it will make no difference from what direction the wind blows, the smoke will pour right out.
The harder the wind blows the greater will be the draft up the chimney. Go and see it, whether you want it or not.

After the telephone between Frankfort and Lawrenceburg was put in working trim Monday evening, the Lawrenceburg string band discoursed some sweet music in the Lawrenceburg office for the benefit of an audience in the Frankfort office. A fine cornet solo was also played in Lawrenceburg, which was distinctly heard in the Frankfort office. It was amusing to see the operator in this office giving instructions to the operator in Lawrenceburg Tuesday morning, about the management of the batteries, and gesticulating as though his Lawrenceburg listener was present in the flesh.

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

CLAUDE BUCKLEY.

GEO. A. LEWIS.

BUCKLEY & LEWIS,
Editors and Publishers.

FRANKFORT, DECEMBER 13, 1879.

Mrs. Dr. W. H. Hall cut a mess of asparagus from her garden Thursday.

Mr. Darsie preaches to-morrow night to young men on "Temperance." All are invited.

The jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. F. J. Wilson, after a brief absence from the court-room, Thursday evening, brought in a verdict of "not guilty" for the defendant, who was charged with arson.

Mrs. Bohannan has been in Louisville this week, buying the nicest lot of Christmas tricks. If you'll drop in at her store, you'll find such a fine assortment of candies, fruits, nuts, canned goods, fire-works, &c., as you never saw before, and at such low prices as will astonish you.

That "paragraph going the rounds of the press that Frankfort merchants thought it more profitable to keep their stores open on Thanksgiving day" is correct, and that they "closed doors all the same" is—well, they closed doors at the regular hour for closing at night. The millinery stores, banks and mills were closed all day; a few merchants closed doors from 11 o'clock, A. M., to 1 o'clock, P. M., but the great majority never closed doors during the day. That "the day was decently and properly observed in this city" depends on what a person considers decent and proper. If the transaction of the regular routine of business, and a little larger business at the counters of the bar-rooms than usual is a decent and proper observance of Thanksgiving day, then "the day was decently and properly observed in this city."

A young man of this city went to see his sweetheart in the Glenn's Creek neighborhood last Sunday, and while on his return home Sunday night, he was stopped by two highwaymen on the 'pike, just above the Big Eddy, where the road leaves the river, and compelled, at the muzzle of a couple of revolvers, to surrender his pocket-book, which they emptied of the cash, amounting to about six dollars, and returned to him. Several young gentlemen of this place heard of their friend's adventure with regret—not so much at the loss of his money as because they find attractions in that neighborhood themselves. They have agreed that when they go courting on Glenn's creek, they will all meet at Shiloh Church at an appointed hour—say ten or eleven o'clock, P. M.—and come home together, so as to run no risk of being required to "stand and deliver."

Mr. H. C. Dunigan, of the firm of Hughes & Dunigan, has moved to town, and now occupies the new brick cottage recently erected by Mr. Thos. Farmer, South Side.

Mr. R. H. Stanton, jr., a handsome young bachelor of Maysville, arrived in the city Thursday afternoon. He will spend the winter here, much to the gratification of his numerous Frankfort friends and greatly to the delight of several young ladies.

Capt. R. S. Cheves, formerly of Mt. Sterling, passed through the city Monday, en route for Louisville, where he goes in the interest of his new paper, the Knox Enterprise, which will be issued in Barbourville, Knox county, about the last of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. M. Saffell and their little boy, Phythian, returned home Wednesday. They have been in Cincinnati for several weeks, where Mrs. Saffell has been under medical treatment. Her host of friends will be rejoiced to know that she is restored to perfect health.

Among others who left Frankfort for Louisville Tuesday afternoon were Gen. J. P. Nuckols, Col. C. E. Bowman, Gen. Harris and wife, Col. Stoddard Johnson and wife, Mr. H. Berry, Judges Husband, Tyler and Feland, Mrs. Cornelia Bush, and her daughter, Mrs. Katie Berry.

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, DECEMBER 13, 1879.

$1 The ROUNDABOUT from $1
now till January 1st, 1881.

We have a number of new advertisements in this issue. Be sure to read them.

The streets in the business part of the city had a good cleaning Monday, which was much needed.

The rain must have had a dampening effect on the reception of Grant in Louisville Wednesday.

Mr. James M. Todd received some choice maple syrup this week. Better call early or it will all be gone.

Be sure to attend the temperance meeting at the court-house to-night. Election of officers will take place.

Many persons in Frankfort gave up the trip to Louisville at the last hour. The rain was too much for them.

The regular trains for Louisville were crowded Tuesday and Wednesday with persons going down to see Ulysses.

Good Templars meet next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Let every member of the Order be present at the appointed hour.

About thirty members of the McCreary Guards went to Louisville Wednesday to participate in the ceremonies of receiving Grant.

The alarm of fire about half past eight o'clock Tuesday night was caused by the burning out of a chimney in the Mansion House.

Ben. Marshall will sell you, at the Post-office News Depot, as nice a cigar for as little money, as you can get in the city. Try him once.

Mr. Darsie will preach to-morrow night on the subject of "Temperance," to hear which the young people are especially invited. Let the house be filled.

Four volumes of Skinner's old "Turf Register and Sporting Magazine," extending from August, 1831, to September, 1835, are advertised for sale or exchange in this issue.

Mr. John McCoy, of the Benson precinct, brought to this office an ear of corn with twenty-six rows of grains upon it. This is a little ahead of Sam Bentley's twenty-four-row ear.

The special court, appointed by Governor Blackburn to try the appeal of Thomas Buford, reversed the decision of the lower court and ordered the case back for a new trial, Judge Husbands dissenting.

We ask attention to the advertisement in this issue of Mr. J. M. Todd's grocery—the nicest arranged in the city. He has everything that is good to eat, and Jimmie Todd will show the patrons of the house all the polite attention that the most exacting could demand.

Last week the grocery of Mr. James Rodgers, on the Georgetown pike, one mile from this city, was entered by burglars and the greater portion of the stock carried off. The police have been working at the case the past week, but as yet no clue has been found to the perpetrator of the deed.

The rain out-boomed Grant on Wednesday, and the boomers were disappointed.

The first message transmitted over the telephone wire between this city and Lawrenceburg was received here at a quarter after nine o'clock Monday night. It is in perfect working order, and Charlie can now stand in Lawrenceburg and make an engagement to take his dulcinea to the theatre in this city any evening after he is through with his labors.

Mr. Walter Franklin is announced in this issue as a candidate for re-election to the office of Clerk of the Franklin Circuit Court. Without meaning disparagement to the other candidates for the office, we feel no hesitancy in saying that we believe Mr. Franklin is the very man for the place he now occupies. He has been brought up in the Circuit Clerk's office, and is, perhaps, more thoroughly conversant with every detail of it than any man in this county. The people would do honor to themselves and show their appreciation of the services of a faithful old public servant by re-electing Mr. Franklin.

In a letter from Lexington, Ky., received by Miles & Son, ordering their Patent flour, this expression is used: "It comes high but the people will have it." Similar expressions are received daily from all points. Use their J. E. M., and you will never regret it.

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

ONE DOLLAR will pay for the ROUNDABOUT from now until the first of January, 1881 send in your name, accompanied by the cash and get the advantage of this offer.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will give an oyster supper Wednesday evening, December 17. Supper, including all the delicacies of the season, $1. Doors open at six. Admission, 25 cents; children, 10 cents.

A little negro boy, about twelve or fourteen years old, took a dressed chicken from Mrs. Bohannan's door Wednesday, put it under his jacket, and went running up the street at a lively gait. He was caught and made to disgorge.

Mr. Sidney French has received and accepted an invitation to deliver an address on the subject of Temperance at Brownsville, Nebraska, and will leave here for that place next week. His fame as a temperance lecturer is not confined to Kentucky, and we predict for him a future that will outshine the fame of any temperance lecturer now in the field. He is a speaker of great earnestness—his whole heart seeming to be in the work in which he is engaged—and we heartily recommend him to the good people of Nebraska as a man worthy of their confidence and esteem.

If you are thinking of buying something nice for the children, you should not fail to go to see Mr. Weitzel, the confectioner. He has some of the most elegant cakes ever made in this city, a fine assortment of candies and nuts, and such a variety of toys as was never seen here before, prominent among which is a large and very beautiful doll, elegantly dressed. The possession of this miniature baby would rejoice the heart of any little girl that has a spark of her mother's nature in her. Go and see for yourself.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Geo. B. Macklin, her daughters, Annie and Eva, Mrs. Landon Thomas and Mr. Thos. Macklin were out riding in Mr. Macklin's carriage, and stopped at Mr. Jno. L. Scott's, on the hill above the city. Tom got out to open the gate and little Eva drove through. Just after passing the gate one of the lines dropped from Eva's hand, and in attempting to stop the horse she pulled the other line, which drew the horse around and upset the carriage. The horse began kicking and Tom ran and cut him loose before he did any damage. Miss Annie Macklin had a wrist sprained and suffered a severe nervous shock, and Mrs. Thomas was caught under the carriage and slightly bruised; Mrs. Macklin and Eva escaped unhurt.

"Tennie" Gray visited his sister, Mrs. Riel and Morris, not long since.

Misses Lida and Bonnie Todd, of Belle Point, have been visiting Mrs. John Stedman.

Miss Lucy Evans, of Frankfort, has been visiting Miss Emma Morris, much to the delight of the young gentlemen of that neighborhood.

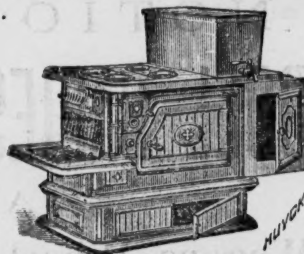

Mr. Todd, of Louisville, has been visiting his nephews, the Messrs. Green.

Miss Jennie Todd, the accomplished daughter of Capt. H. I. Todd, has been the guest of Miss Belle Cox, but, to the sorrow of all, has returned to her home in Frankfort.

Mrs. Dr. Wm. Morris, a great sufferer from rheumatism, has been taking poke root and whisky for the fearful monster. The other night, suffering slightly, she took a small quantity, and it was too strong of the poke root, which is a deadly poison. That night she was taken quite ill, but as soon as her husband discovered that she was suffering from poison he gave her an antidote, which was all that saved her life. We are happy to state that she is now convalescent.
